...clusive, in ENGLAND, WALES, and ISLANDS in the BRITISH SEAS.

...in arranging the Ages of Children, like their own, in Quinquennial Periods [see Preface, p. 3], has so far affected the accuracy of the Totals for each Year, as to ...ase, it may be presumed that the numbers in the columns for the intermediate Years have been diminished all in equal proportion.

III.—Table showing the Number of Children enumerated at each Year of Life from Birth to 14 Years.

N.B.—It is to be observed, with respect to the following Table, that an evident misapprehension on the part of Enumerators, and those who filled up Household Schedules, render some adjustment necessary; thus, although the numbers assigned to the Years 5 and 10, have been exaggerated from the ch
